Report Covid-19 Fraud

U.S. Attorneys' Offices for the Eastern, Northern, and Western Districts of Oklahoma and the Oklahoma Attorney General's Office urge the public to remain vigilant for coronavirus fraud.

- Unsolicited calls, social media platforms, apps, emails, texts, and door-to-door visits are often used to target victims
- Anyone selling fake testing kits, treatments, or cures for COVID-19
- Websites seeking donations for illegitimate or nonexistent COVID-19 charities
- Fraudulent phone calls from individuals posing as health insurers seeking personal information
- Robocalls offering medical supplies with no intent to deliver
- Websites claiming to provide stimulus funds when consumers input their bank information
- Fake mobile apps claiming to "track the spread of COVID-19" but instead insert malware to compromise users' devices and personal information
- Fraudulent medical billing for procedures related to COVID-19
- Threats to public officials advocating quarantines
- Hoarding or price-gouging of necessary supplies
- Threats to intentionally infect individuals with COVID-19
- Offers to help individuals file claims for unemployment benefits and ask for personal information like SSN, DOB, credit card number
- Phishing emails from scammers posing as national and global health authorities, including the CDC and WHO, sent to trick recipients into downloading malware or providing personal identifying and financial information
- Phone calls/emails claiming to be health care providers that have treated a friend or relative for COVID-19 and demand payment
